

All humanitarian assistance is free of charge. You do not have to provide sex, money, or other favors in exchange for land, goods, food or services. Report such cases to a person or organization you trust.